I never knew such a sparklingly bright person could exist.

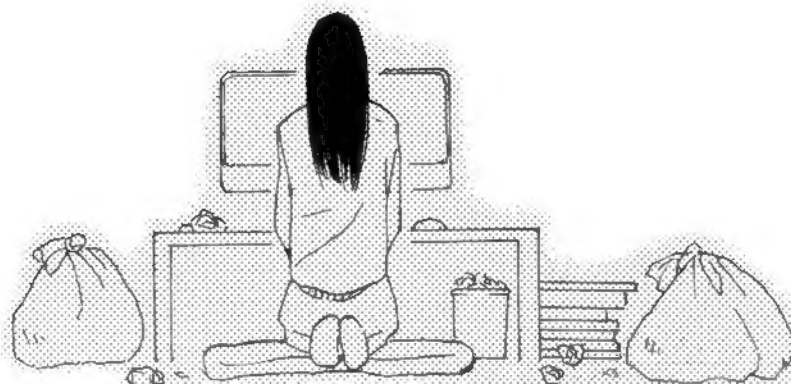
Her voice

Her gestures

Everything about her

She was like a light, shining into me.

She was like a Goddess

that descended to the helplessly useless me


Ever since then I have been feel-ing depressed.
I wanted to change.
oh
I caught a glimpse of it in the city and I grasped it without hesitation.
Because
I wanted to shine like her...

dang
It's finally over.

No one's ever recognized me like that before.

yeah..
Madeleine-chan really does mean everything to me

Madeleine-chan seems to sparkle so brightly, its as if she were actually shining.
When we are together
I almost feel that I'm sparkling myself, just from reflecting her light.
Being with her
is truly, so much fun.
To keep on spending my days just like this forever and ever--
This is what I hoped for, from the bottom of my heart.

What do you mean "hmmm"? You don't mind?
It's all right. If you just leave it be it will settle down right away.
Eh? But...
It's fun making broadcasts with you, Yagi-san.
So something small like this won't stop me from doing what I want to do.
I like you.
Telling me that she liked me just made me feel miserable rather than happy.

"Like me"
...really?
But my own broadcast is turning into something horrible.
It's this thing's fault
This
hideous thing
Mado-chan is so sparklingly
cute both in real life and on the internet
But I have

I, the Goat, will...

why

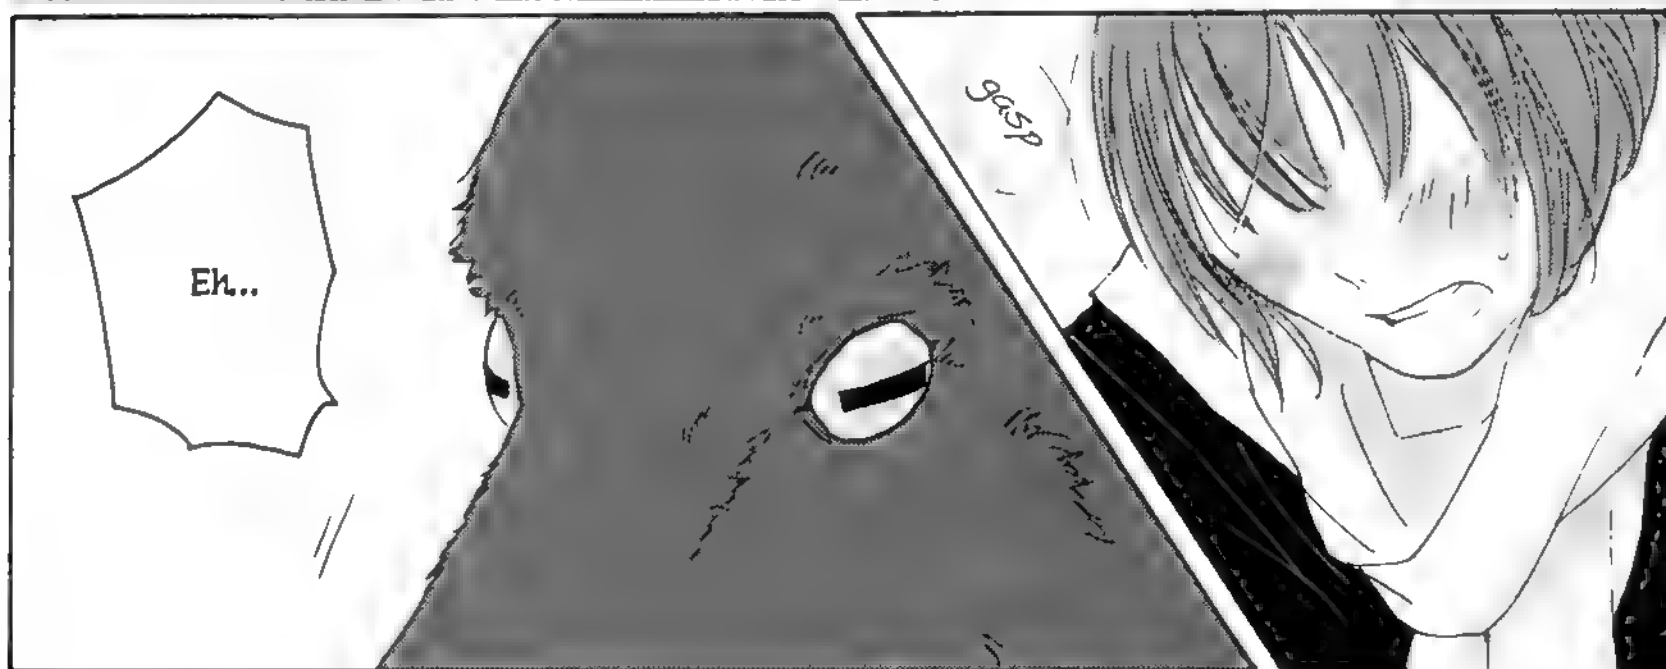
oh?

good job

sorta acting odd today

...close my altar today.

That's right. It's about time I explain why I wear the goat mask.
No matter how much I hate my face... or myself... I still wanted to start doing something.
It seems that I could only be myself here when wearing the goat mask.
...but I am nothing but useless after all.

STOP
So please don't make Madeleine feel miserable.
It is all my fault.
don't stop
An ugly demon like me should never have tried to get close to a princess like that.
I... It's my fault.
Please...
Please, at least, just let her keep shining on...


OPEN

...Are you really... all right with liking somebody like me?
